

Kan Eguchi

Film Director

Kan is the most experienced director at KOO-KI, which he co-founded in 1997. His work has repeatedly won prizes at international festivals, including 3 consecutive Cannes Lions wins (Bronze /Bronze/Gold). He served as a judge at the prestigious Clio Awards from 2010 to 2012. He was the creative director of “Tomorrow Begins”, the PR video used to promote Tokyo's candidacy for the Olympic Games in 2020. “TOYOTA G's BaseballParty”, a web film he directed in 2015 created a buzz. It was featured on the official websites of MLB and CBS Sports Adweek. In 2017, he produced and directed a short promotional film, “COME ON! Kanmon!” for the cities of Kitakyushu and Shimonoseki to boost their tourism. It has been viewed over 400 million times and counting in total.

His work is not limited to advertising, he's directed both TV drama series and feature-length films including original works.

His debut commercial film was “Riding Uphill” in 2018 which was named among the Best 10 Japanese films of the year by a Japanese magazine Eiga Geijutsu.

He directed the film “Mentai Piriri” in 2019, which was originally a popular local TV drama series, and was the opening film at the Busan Food Film Festa by special invitation.

The film “The Fable”, also from 2019, won prizes at several international festivals including the 19th Neuchâtel International Fantastic Film Festival (Switzerland) and the 23rd Fantasia International Film Festival (Canada). Films he directed include “THE FABLE: The Killer Who Doesn't Kill” in 2021, and The Netflix Series “Sanctuary” (release date: May 4, 2023). In addition to directing, he planned and wrote the screenplay of the film “MENTAI PIRIRI -Pansy Flowers-” (release date: June 2, 2023).
